Product description:

Robert Parker's wine advocate (Neal Martin - Oct, 2015) : 85-87/100. The 2014 Marsannay Grasses Têtes has a well defined, pretty bouquet with raspberry and blackcurrant scents, hints of rose petal in the background. The palate is medium-bodied with fine tannin, quite strict and linear with good acidity, and a little too serious on the finish for my liking - but hopefully it will forage a little more charm by the time of bottling. A bit "bolshie" at the moment. Drink : 2016 - 2021.
